FOREWORD

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to our inaugural Sculpture in the Sanctuary. We have tried to show a very wide range of Sculptures from artists all over the country, some will amaze you, some will confuse you and some will make you smile but above all some will enchant you set in our beautiful Sanctuary.

We have made every effort for your comfort and are making no charge for your visit; this would not have been possible without the wonderful help of our sponsors. The financial and physical help we have received is most humbling and I would appreciate your indulgence in studying the list of these wonderful and professional people and companies and if possible giving them support in the future.

My gratitude also goes to our event organiser David Waghorne of Launch media PR who originally came up with the idea and has worked tirelessly to bring everything together and make it happen. Also my family who have shown their usual enthusiasm and dedication for everything we do.

Please enjoy your visit, take your time and relax, all I would ask is that you respect the exhibits and inform us if you require any assistance.

HISTORY OF THE SWAN SANCTUARY

The very first lake was by Mark Taylor. In 1986, he started to transform a flat wetland grass field into the contours and lakes we see today. Mark worked tirelessly on his second hand International 360 digger stopping only for meal breaks or daylight. A wonderful effort for a boy of only 16. He soon wore out the international and needed more modern machinery, a Massey Ferguson 50B, which we still, use today.

After the first lake had been filled Jean Ann, Mark's mother heard about the plight of some injured Swans needing a permanent home, this was the start of our rest home for injured birds. The whole area was fenced against predators and over the years has been planted and maintained with dedication. Jean Ann still regularly feeds and has added Chickens, Peacocks and Waterfowl to the collection. We also have a small breeding programme for endangered species.

You are also most welcome to look around our other family passion the Garden Centre where we pride ourselves on quality, choice and family advice on all that matters gardening.

Please keep children under supervision at all times and respect all the exhibits so other people can enjoy them.

Richard was always making things from an early age! He started making sculpture but learnt of people making sculpture as jewellery so decided to study jewellery and silver smithing at Loughborough. He was then selected to show his work at the Inspiring Electrum Gallery in London. After a number of successful years he was selected to make some street furniture in Newark and since then has made many pieces of street furniture and sculpture in many public spaces. Richard makes today both large and small works and undoubtedly the development of his jewellery has inspired his larger works coming full circle then!!

AN

Amanda Noble creates works of art to enhance gardens and house interiors. Not in traditional stone or metal sculptures, but in glass a wholly natural material that provides a greater range of colours than more traditional sculptures. Each piece is an original work of art. The designs come from a combination of countryside influences and also inspired by Rothko paintings. Amanda has a degree in 3D design and has worked as a freelance theatre designer.

Sat in a field located on one of the hills of Sheffield, England having a well deserved cup of tea break from the dry stone wall I was building, I pondered who had originally built these walls and the many others there are, gifted craftsmen who had toiled in all weathers and environments. Over the years it could be that more than one person had touched this wall and an unknown history exists. I decided to mark the walls I worked on and this simple thought led me to walk a different path.
